Teacher's Notes and Terms of Use

1. This back-to-school read-aloud unit was designed for kindergarten library classes, and the lesson plans are written accordingly. By taking out the “book exchange” procedure, however, the response booklets can be used just as easily in a classroom with a read aloud or at a reading / listening center.
2. To make the booklets, print them double-sided, fold in half, and staple twice in the middle.
3. When making changes to the booklet PowerPoint file, pay attention to the page numbers in the bottom corner to see the content in the order of the booklet.
4. The answer key is included for the library behavior activity and the book care activity.
I don't formally grade the other activities other than through formative assessment. I circulate the room after students have checked out books to make sure they are on task. Sometimes, I use a checklist to see that everyone completes the reading response for the book. Other times, I ask a few students to share their responses with the class.

About Collette J.

Mrs. J in the Library

I'm a teacher-librarian with over a decade of experience teaching information fluency and research skills to elementary students.

I believe teacher-librarians and library spaces should inspire and empower students to create, as well as read, research, and think critically. I teach with literature-based activities in K-2 classes and library centers in grades 3-5, in addition to teaching collaboratively with classroom teachers and managing my library's physical and digital spaces. You can find me online at MrsJintheLibrary.com.

Because every library and every school is different, all of my products are editable so that my customers can modify them for their students' needs. If you have any questions about one of my products, please don't hesitate to contact me.
